

2017 Stewardship Conference - Quebec

A short program is now available for viewing for the 2017 Conference on Canadian Stewardship. We had 650 attendees including delegates, speakers, moderators, special guests and exhibitors at the last conference in 2015. This year's conference will present key business and government speakers, deal with program rules, and views from Europe on emerging circular economy themes. Speakers will discuss changing stewardship trends in Asia and around the world. The conference theme is: Canadian EPR Contributing Towards Circular Economy.

The 2017 conference is co-hosted with Eco Entreprises Quebec as the local hosts of this national conference. The venue is the spectacular Le Centre Sheraton Hotel - in the heart of vibrant downtown Montreal. Globally acclaimed ecological photographer, Edward Burtynsky will inspire delegates examining changing landscapes due to industrialization and production. The conference will lead off with original research conducted by the conference organizers, presenting revealing insights from stewards participating in the EPR programs that operate across Canada.

The conference kicks off Wednesday, September 27, 2017 and ends on Friday, September 29. We are assembling a world class agenda with speakers from around the world and from North America. Registrations and hotel reservations are now available on-line. Exhibitors are reserving their booth spaces, through the link presented below.

See you in Montreal!
